Outcome/Assessment:

Upon completion of the course, students should be able to

1. Understand the history and reasoning for the development of the current Internal Revenue Code and methods to research tax questions.
2. Identify the different types of business entities and tax consequences and differences between corporations, partnerships and S Corporations.
3. Gain an understanding of how tax laws differ as they apply to different legal entities.
4. Apply knowledge of the tax law through the preparation of business returns.

Student Evaluation and Grading:

1. Attendance is important and students are expected to attend and fully participate in class. Class participation constitutes 20% of the students' final grade; therefore, class attendance is important. Assigned reading is to be completed prior to class and students must be prepared to discuss the materials and problems assigned. In the event that you miss a class, it is the student's responsibility to make up the work. If an assignment is due the day of the absence, the due date does not change. A student who is absent from class for reasons of illness or a family emergency must contact the Dean of Student Affairs.
2. Minimal requirements of the course are that students successfully take and pass a mid-term and final exam, successfully prepare two tax returns using TaxCut software, regularly attend and participate in class.
3. Final grades will be calculated as follows:

Class Participation and Preparedness	20%
Mid-term exam	20%
Preparation of two tax returns	30%
Final exam	30%
Total	100%

4. The dates and material to be covered on each exam will be discussed in class. Exams will be both in class and take home. The exams will consist of multiple choice, problems, and short answer essay questions. The material to be covered on each exam will be discussed in class.
5. Details for the tax returns to be completed will be distributed in class and provide opportunities for applying the material learned in a particular situation.
6. Class participation and discussion is evaluated based on the relevance and contribution. Questions are encouraged.
7. There are no extra credit opportunities.

Classroom Expectations:

All students are expected to attend class and contribute regularly to discussions. Students are expected to come to class prepared to discuss the assigned topics and problems. Therefore, they should read the assigned chapters prior to class and complete the assigned problems.

Each student is required to use his/her Cedar Crest email account for communication with the instructor and fellow students. Students should check their email regularly. I will respond to emails from students within 24-48 hours Monday – Friday. Email is the preferred method of communication using your Cedar Crest email account.

Please turn-off all cell phones, beepers and pagers prior to the start of class.
